1. The cost to debtors for the bankruptcy pre-discharge education is $40. The fee must be paid prior to the Financial Management Course being taken. The fee to provide the Financial Management Course is a separate fee from the Pre-Filing Bankruptcy Counseling fee. CCCS will provide a certificate of completion to the debtor upon completion of the course. This Certificate is mandatory prior to receiving a discharge in your bankruptcy case. CCCS will provide this service without regard for the debtor's ability to pay.
2. Debtor(s) that have family income less than 150% of the US Department of Health and Human Services (USDHHS) Poverty Guidelines are eligible for a waiver of the bankruptcy education course fee. Families/households with monthly income exceeding 150% of the USDHHS Poverty Guidelines will not receive any fee waiver or reduction except in cases of extreme situations or circumstances.
3. For debtors that speak Spanish or have limited English-speaking proficiency, CCCS has a contract with a third-party interpreter to assist in translating when needed. There is no charge to the debtors for this service. CCCS offers bankruptcy education with an on-line course via their website for Spanish speaking individuals. The cost for the bankruptcy education course is the same as noted above.
4. All CCCS financial educators are Certified Financial Professionals (credit counselors) with certification granted by the National Foundation for Credit Counseling after completing all certification course requirements. 6. At the conclusion of the education course, the debtor will be issued a certificate from the EOUST website. For face-to-face counseling sessions, the certificate is given to the debtor(s) at the conclusion of the education course and/or forwarded to the attorney. For phone education courses, the certificate is mailed to the debtor(s) at the conclusion of the education course and/or the attorney after all required forms have been returned to CCCS by the debtor. For debtors that take the course via the Internet, once notification has been received by CCCS that the course has been completed, the certificate is issued and mailed to the debtor and/or forwarded to the attorney. Typically, the certificate is issued within three (3) business days of the education course, receipt of all required forms after completion, and/or notification of completion.

However, as a condition of providing a personal financial management instruction course (bankruptcy education), CCCS could be required to disclose some debtor/client information to the EOUST in connection with the EOUST's oversight of CCCS, or during the investigation of complaints, during on-site visits, or during quality-of-service reviews.
8. The EOUST is responsible for determining that CCCS has met all the requirements to provide personal financial management instructional courses. However, the EOUST's review is limited to only the providing of personal financial management instructional courses (including bankruptcy pre-discharge education) and, where applicable, our providing budget and credit counseling service (bankruptcy pre-filing counseling). As a result, EOUST has neither reviewed nor approved any other services provided by CCCS. Approved to issue certificates in compliance with the Bankruptcy Code. Approval does not endorse or assure the quality of an Agency's services.
9. A bankruptcy certificate will only be issued by CCCS after the successful completion of a personal financial management course (bankruptcy education) provided/presented by a CCCS educator. CCCS is obligated to issue the certificate promptly after course completion. No certificates will be issued by CCCS for a personal financial management course provided/presented by another agency.
